

FIREPROOFING DIVISION

VISION STATEMENT

The primary goal of Western Partitions, Fireproofing Division is to provide a level of on the job and off the job performance without equal in the Industry.

Out with the Old Way of Thinking

- No, it is not OK to leave a mess on the job site.
- No, it is not acceptable to have poorly maintained fireproofing equipment.
- No, it is not beneficial to the construction site to alienate other accompanying trades by over-spraying their trade tools, equipment and/or installed product.

Our Approach is Simple

- Maintain a level of quality and organization that is unequalled in the industry.
- Perform at a level above and beyond traditional means and methods with implementation of the most current application and equipment enhancements.
- Pre-planned work flow tailored to project at hand. Enhance the project schedule rather than hinder it.
- Coordination with all trades prior to and during project duration.
- Application of most current UL Design and IBC code requirements.
- Thoughtful and thorough approach to fire-resistive design for development of complete and accurate fireproofing submittal.
- Employ full time equipment maintenance personnel.
- Employ the absolute best industry applicators and site management available.

Industry Leader

Western Partitions, Inc. has become a leader in the spray-applied fireproofing industry. Our management staff is comprised of industry professionals with more than sixty years of combined experience in all aspects of their chosen profession, from the nuts and bolts of job-site application to advanced knowledge of the most current code and design application.

Covering all the Bases

As an Industry resource to our customers, WPI provides added value when presented with multiple product application conditions. The ability to perform installation of both traditional coating materials along with specialty coating materials such as intumescent mastic provides for a simplified as well as a complete fire-resistive design package.

Confidence Level

Providing assistance to our Clients during the initial design stages through job completion affords a level of confidence when considering today's demanding overall project and scheduling complexity. One less thing to worry about!

Experience

Our industry longevity affords experience in all types of structures, including but not limited to: Hospitals, educational facilities, office buildings, sports arenas and industrial facilities. We are here to service our clients with all knowledge and capabilities.

Our desire is to provide our Clients the knowledge and security that they deserve and the quality project that they expect!
